

Let the Boys Cook

HERALD-EXPRESS
MIDWEEK

Women's World

★ THURSDAY, AUGUST 13, 1959

C-1

In This Section:

Women's Pages
Society
Fashions—Food
Classified Ads
Comics
Financial

Handsome father and son team . . . Peter Adams, actor, and Peter Adams jr. have fun in kitchen! Dad is ready to slip Leg of Lamb off spit while Peter takes Caramel Cake out of pan. Foil Baked Potatoes and Italian Salad are also ready C-2.

Father, Son

Guests Today Intrigue

We are delighted to have a very fine father, Peter Adams, well known screen, TV and stage actor, and his attractive, gentlemanly, 8-year-old son, Peter Adams jr., as our front page guests today.

Tall, dark and handsome is an apt description of actor Peter Adams. He is well known for his great acting talent in various roles in summer-stock theater, Broadway and on the Los Angeles stage, intermixed with TV and screen roles.

Fine Credits

Adams' stage credits include parts in "Mister Roberts," "White Cargo," "Harvey," "Plain and Fancy," and many others.

Screen credits include "The Fountainhead," "Brigadoon," "The Court Martial of Billy Mitchell," "The Big Fisherman," "Jailhouse Rock," and others.

You may have seen this charming gentleman in Lux Video Theater, Schlitz Playhouse, Alfred Hitchcock Presents, Donna Reed and Loretta Young Shows and quite a few more.

Native Son

He is one of those rarities—he was born in Los Angeles. His heritage goes back to New England and he is a direct descendant of John Quincy Adams.

Happily Married

Peter Adams is married to the former Mary Seitz and the couple have three children, Aileen Catherine, Mary Brown and Peter Seitz jr. They reside in Beverly Hills, where they are active in civic affairs.

Young Peter, who was in photo with his father attends Carl Curtiss School, Los Angeles. He is an excellent swimmer and his hobbies are boxing and fencing. He is a member of Y. M. C. A. Indian Guides while his father is an officer of the troop.